MSc CLASSES OF 2015 & 2016 EMPLOYMENT REPORT

Congratulations to the MSc IB/CEMS classes of 2015 and 2016! Since 2010, Ivey has been developing a new breed of manager for a business landscape that transcends borders. It takes a special environment to develop such leaders – one where the diversity of the class enhances the learning opportunities through the curriculum. That diversity is outlined in the snapshot below. What follows is the summary of employment information as reported by the 72 students making up the MSc classes of 2015 and 2016. Graduates of the program have gone on to work at leading firms around the world and we're very proud of all of them.

Sincerely,

Sharon Irwin-Foulon

Executive Director, Career Management and Corporate Recruiting, Ivey Business School

Undergraduate University:

University of Ottawa

Undergraduate Program:

Marketing

Birth Country: Lebanon

Current Company & Role: Google, Agency Account Manager

"Ivey's MSc acted as the tool kit that allowed me to start painting my international career canvas. Ivey's case-teaching method along with the program's extensive international opportunities are the two qualities that I appreciated most about the MSc. Cases helped me develop the business acumen required to thrive in today's global corporate mindset, while my experiences of working in India and studying abroad at host CEMS schools awarded me with the chance to learn from different cultures and build relationships worldwide."

Christina Lomazzo

Undergraduate University:

University of Ottawa

Undergraduate Program: Honours Bachelor of Commerce (International Management)

Birth Country: Canada

Current Company & Role: Consultant, Deloitte

"As an MSc student I supported leading edge research in the field of cryptocurrencies and blockchain, and learned from some of the most prominent scholars in the business world. Now I apply the lessons I learned in my day-to-day work and Ivey alum around the world are doing the same. I can't wait to see how future cohorts inspire, create and lead the next generation of thinking."

Mary Catherine Littlejohn

Undergraduate University:

McGill University

Undergraduate Program: BComm, Major in Finance, Minor in Art History

Birth Country: Canada

Current Company & Role:

TELUS, Market Intelligence Manager

"Given that such a large part of our grade is based on participation, the MSc taught me to speak up in a way where my ideas made sense and were constructive. Throughout the program, I felt like I was always thrown into a concept and where I was forced to react. I really had to learn how to express my ideas and thoughts properly - whether it was in class, when the teacher threw us a curveball, or when one of my peers brought up a point that I never would have thought of and I had to build on, or when I was working in a start up in India. After completing the MSc, expressing my ideas and constructively challenging people's thoughts and opinions, whether it was at a team meeting or at the executive table, became a reflex, and translated into being able to become a valued and respected team member within my organization."

Leigh Lostracco

Undergraduate University:

University of Western Ontario

Undergraduate Program: Criminology/Sociology

Birth Country: Canada

Current Company & Role:

Sun Life Financial, Rotational Leadership Development Program – Operational Risk Management Consultant

"The MSc program allows students from a variety of educational and cultural backgrounds to come together and learn from one another. The learnings taken from these interactions prepares you to be immersed in a variety of environments such as the Ivey Global Lab. The Ivey Global Lab is an invaluable aspect of the program because it pushes you to reflect on yourself and your abilities to adapt. The balance of theoretical learning and the case method, which is woven throughout the program, allowed me to develop strong decision making, persuasion and communication skills which have been transferrable throughout my career so far."
